CPD training courses on Timber Frame

All new for 2012, this one day course is written to complement our new 5th edition Timber Frame Construction book. It explores best practice detailing, recent innovations and changes in building regulations. The training course aims to provide a better overall understanding of timber frame during design, the construction phase and in use.

The course is delivered by members of the TRADA Technology frameCHECK✓ team, authors of Timber Frame Construction 5th edition, who regularly attend sites to provide best practice advice, or assist in solving problems. Their knowledge of current site practice, latest innovations and how common mistakes can be avoided, helps to ensure that the course content is up to date and relevant.

To find out more or to book onto a course contact our training department on +44 (0) 1494 569620 or email training@trada.co.uk
